

SUICIDE FOR LOVE. JAILED THE COMPLAINANT.

Susanna Bartsch's Sweetheart in Hungary Proved False.

Early This Morning She Shot Herself Through the Heart.

Her Sister's Child Sat Crying Beside the Body.

Susanna Bartsch, a comely young Hungarian, committed suicide early today by shooting herself in her bedroom at 1976 Park avenue, where she lived with her married sister.

The deed was prompted by news from the old country that her lover, who had promised to marry her, had fallen in love with another girl, whom he was going to make his wife.

Susanna Bartsch was born and brought up in a village near Rokos, Upper Hungary. Her father is a farmer, in comfortable circumstances.

Susanna's heart was sought by numerous young men in the village, and she fell in love with Paul Koller, a young tailor, who made the uniforms for the army.

Koller, before he became enamored of Susanna, was in love with her younger sister, Julia, and the latter was married to some one else and has since died.

Koller and the fair Susanna kept company for several years and were betrothed. He promised to marry her when he had served his time in the military.

Susanna was happy, but as the time approached she began to fear that the day would come when she would be married to someone else and has since died.

Koller, before he became enamored of Susanna, was in love with her younger sister, Julia, and the latter was married to some one else and has since died.

Susanna's brother, John, was coming to this country to visit another sister, who is the wife of Hugo Bokmann, who keeps a grocery store at 1976 Park avenue.

Mrs. Bokmann had two children by her first husband, and her brother was going to bring them over to America to live with Susanna, who would come to this country, and Koller promised his parents that as soon as he finished his military service he would follow her and make her his wife.

Accordingly Susanna came over with her brother and her sister's children. Her lover saw her off, and before the steamer left she went with her and purchased her bridal veil.

His last words before they parted were that he wouldn't be long before he would come to America and claim her for his wife.

Susanna arrived here four months ago, and has since been living with Mrs. Bokmann. About a month ago she received a letter from her lover in which he said that he was getting ready to come over.

The letter made her glad and she went about her work in a happy frame of mind.

She was expecting her lover almost any day, and was making preparations for the wedding. But one day last week another letter came from her aunt in Hungary, which told her that Paul had proved faithless, and that he was not coming now, that he was going to marry another girl.

The news of her lover's faithlessness put Susanna in a dependent and melancholy. She went about morose and unhappy.

Her friends tried to cheer her, but she said her heart was broken.

Bukmann went to market about 4 o'clock this morning. Susanna slept in child's Minnie.

At about 5:30 o'clock this morning Mrs. Bokmann was awakened by hearing Minnie crying. "Mammy," several times.

She got up and went into the room, where Susanna slept to see what was the matter. She found her sister lying on the floor.

Susanna had shot herself right through the heart. The child Minnie was sitting alongside of the body waiting.

Dr. E. Vidal, of 59 West One Hundred and Thirty-third street, was sent for and performed an operation.

The 24-calibre revolver with which she shot herself was given to Dr. Bokmann, but it disappeared a couple of hours ago, and it could not be found.

It is expected that Susanna had it away where she could find it in case she wanted to kill herself.

It is believed that she had an idea that her lover would not keep his promise, and that she would make up her mind to kill herself and prove to him.

She was only twenty-four years old.

SPINELLO BEFORE THE JURY.

Fifth Man Charged with Killing Peter J. Eckels on Trial.

The trial of Domenico Spinello for the murder of Letter Carrier Peter J. Eckels, which occurred on the ferry boat Dakota, of the Grand street line, on the night of Jan. 2 last, was continued before Justice Culen and a jury, in the court of Oyer and Terminer, Brooklyn, at noon to-day.

Spinello is the fifth man tried for the crime. Angelo Santori and Michael and Bruno Cossella have already been sentenced to life imprisonment each for the murder. They were in court this morning under the eye of State Detective James Jackson, of the 25th Precinct, who brought them down to testify in this case.

Joseph Spinello, a brother of the prisoner, pleaded guilty yesterday and was remanded for sentence.

County Physician A. W. Shepard, who was the first witness this morning, testified as to the condition of the body of Eckels.

Hermon Linds, of 162 Bedford avenue, Brooklyn, who was on the stand when the case was adjourned yesterday, was recalled and sat in the box from the beginning to the end.

As Eckels turned from the rear towards the front door, the Italian, the Italian, followed him, but he paid no attention to their remarks.

They attacked Eckels in the narrow passage between the two buildings. The witness said he tried to avert Eckels, but was prevented by Angelo Santori.

The case is still on.

BILL-POSTERS IN SESSION.

Will Stick for the Rights of Their Advertising Patrons.

Delegates of the Associated Bill-Posters Association of the United States and Canada began a two-days' convention this afternoon at the Ashland Hotel, 25th Street avenue.

The leading bill-posters of America were represented at the meeting, the object of which is to promote the welfare of the advertising business.

James A. Van Duren & Co., of the firm of A. Van Duren & Co., said is to devise ways and means to better protect the bill-posters, their agents and the members of the Association.

At the first session, at 12 o'clock noon, the members and delegates met in the parlors of the hotel. After the presentation of credentials of members and delegates, the session was opened.

A full account of Wall street affairs will be given in "The Evening World's" Spring Extra.

Business Troubles.

Harcourt & Co., of Ocean, merchants, made an assignment yesterday. Assets, $62,000 liabilities.

Jesse Zabel, of the Schulte Parke Opera Company, Milwaukee, made an assignment yesterday. His company has been losing $2,000 a week.

John H. Smith, of the 25th Precinct, was appointed by the Tax District Court receiver of the tax district.

Montana Mine Owners Hopeful.

HELENA, Mon., July 11.—Last week did not witness closing down any Montana silver mines of importance. The companies are keeping their properties going under the belief that the present conditions and temporary only, and that in a few days silver will be again worth $1 cents or more.

A SHELBYVILLE BANK FAILS.

Mr. Booth Ordered a Policeman to Close a Saloon.

He Was Arrested, and Justice Koch Held Him to Keep the Peace.

STENOGRAFER Orrin B. Booth, whose office is in the Metropolitan Building, Twenty-third street and Madison avenue, is today fearing over his chances of getting damages should he decide to bring suit for false imprisonment against Saloonkeeper P. J. Kelly, of Bleeker street and South Fifth avenue. Immediately Mr. Booth has a hasty idea that Jefferson Market Court justice is not what he cracked up to be when Justice Koch is on the bench.

Mr. Booth is now under $300 bonds for his good behavior, because he claims and can't run up full bail on Sunday night.

Booth is trying to get a hearing and endure a day's imprisonment in company with crooks and drunkards. It cost Mr. Booth $10 for attorney fee and other expenses.

The story of his troubles, as told by himself, is as follows:

At about 7 o'clock Sunday evening Mr. Booth, who is the attorney of Bleeker street and South Fifth avenue, which is on the corner, was doing a hustling business with the members of the underworld.

Mr. Booth, who is a disciple of Dr. Penruddick, and an enthusiastic advocate of temperance, was in the Equitable Building, Foley to replace spoiled ware.

The boy had violent paroxysms, with symptoms of rabies.

When the boy was attacked with hysteria and successive violent fits it required several men to hold him. Dr. Leibman, which is on the corner, set that the case was an unusual one as he had never known symptoms of hydrophobia to develop so soon after the boy fell ill.

The boy had also suffered a large paroxysm and been backed by ample capital, and was, therefore, a popular favorite for rich, well-to-do persons.

The boy had also suffered a large paroxysm and been backed by ample capital, and was, therefore, a popular favorite for rich, well-to-do persons.

The boy had also suffered a large paroxysm and been backed by ample capital, and was, therefore, a popular favorite for rich, well-to-do persons.

The boy had also suffered a large paroxysm and been backed by ample capital, and was, therefore, a popular favorite for rich, well-to-do persons.

The boy had also suffered a large paroxysm and been backed by ample capital, and was, therefore, a popular favorite for rich, well-to-do persons.

The boy had also suffered a large paroxysm and been backed by ample capital, and was, therefore, a popular favorite for rich, well-to-do persons.

The boy had also suffered a large paroxysm and been backed by ample capital, and was, therefore, a popular favorite for rich, well-to-do persons.

The boy had also suffered a large paroxysm and been backed by ample capital, and was, therefore, a popular favorite for rich, well-to-do persons.

The boy had also suffered a large paroxysm and been backed by ample capital, and was, therefore, a popular favorite for rich, well-to-do persons.

The boy had also suffered a large paroxysm and been backed by ample capital, and was, therefore, a popular favorite for rich, well-to-do persons.

The boy had also suffered a large paroxysm and been backed by ample capital, and was, therefore, a popular favorite for rich, well-to-do persons.

The boy had also suffered a large paroxysm and been backed by ample capital, and was, therefore, a popular favorite for rich, well-to-do persons.

The boy had also suffered a large paroxysm and been backed by ample capital, and was, therefore, a popular favorite for rich, well-to-do persons.

The boy had also suffered a large paroxysm and been backed by ample capital, and was, therefore, a popular favorite for rich, well-to-do persons.

The boy had also suffered a large paroxysm and been backed by ample capital, and was, therefore, a popular favorite for rich, well-to-do persons.

The boy had also suffered a large paroxysm and been backed by ample capital, and was, therefore, a popular favorite for rich, well-to-do persons.

The boy had also suffered a large paroxysm and been backed by ample capital, and was, therefore, a popular favorite for rich, well-to-do persons.

The boy had also suffered a large paroxysm and been backed by ample capital, and was, therefore, a popular favorite for rich, well-to-do persons.

The boy had also suffered a large paroxysm and been backed by ample capital, and was, therefore, a popular favorite for rich, well-to-do persons.

The boy had also suffered a large paroxysm and been backed by ample capital, and was, therefore, a popular favorite for rich, well-to-do persons.

The boy had also suffered a large paroxysm and been backed by ample capital, and was, therefore, a popular favorite for rich, well-to-do persons.

The boy had also suffered a large paroxysm and been backed by ample capital, and was, therefore, a popular favorite for rich, well-to-do persons.

The boy had also suffered a large paroxysm and been backed by ample capital, and was, therefore, a popular favorite for rich, well-to-do persons.

The boy had also suffered a large paroxysm and been backed by ample capital, and was, therefore, a popular favorite for rich, well-to-do persons.

The boy had also suffered a large paroxysm and been backed by ample capital, and was, therefore, a popular favorite for rich, well-to-do persons.

The boy had also suffered a large paroxysm and been backed by ample capital, and was, therefore, a popular favorite for rich, well-to-do persons.

The boy had also suffered a large paroxysm and been backed by ample capital, and was, therefore, a popular favorite for rich, well-to-do persons.

The boy had also suffered a large paroxysm and been backed by ample capital, and was, therefore, a popular favorite for rich, well-to-do persons.

The boy had also suffered a large paroxysm and been backed by ample capital, and was, therefore, a popular favorite for rich, well-to-do persons.

The boy had also suffered a large paroxysm and been backed by ample capital, and was, therefore, a popular favorite for rich, well-to-do persons.

The boy had also suffered a large paroxysm and been backed by ample capital, and was, therefore, a popular favorite for rich, well-to-do persons.

The boy had also suffered a large paroxysm and been backed by ample capital, and was, therefore, a popular favorite for rich, well-to-do persons.

The boy had also suffered a large paroxysm and been backed by ample capital, and was, therefore, a popular favorite for rich, well-to-do persons.

The boy had also suffered a large paroxysm and been backed by ample capital, and was, therefore, a popular favorite for rich, well-to-do persons.

The boy had also suffered a large paroxysm and been backed by ample capital, and was, therefore, a popular favorite for rich, well-to-do persons.

The boy had also suffered a large paroxysm and been backed by ample capital, and was, therefore, a popular favorite for rich, well-to-do persons.

The boy had also suffered a large paroxysm and been backed by ample capital, and was, therefore, a popular favorite for rich, well-to-do persons.

The boy had also suffered a large paroxysm and been backed by ample capital, and was, therefore, a popular favorite for rich, well-to-do persons.

The boy had also suffered a large paroxysm and been backed by ample capital, and was, therefore, a popular favorite for rich, well-to-do persons.

The boy had also suffered a large paroxysm and been backed by ample capital, and was, therefore, a popular favorite for rich, well-to-do persons.

The boy had also suffered a large paroxysm and been backed by ample capital, and was, therefore, a popular favorite for rich, well-to-do persons.

The boy had also suffered a large paroxysm and been backed by ample capital, and was, therefore, a popular favorite for rich, well-to-do persons.

The boy had also suffered a large paroxysm and been backed by ample capital, and was, therefore, a popular favorite for rich, well-to-do persons.

The boy had also suffered a large paroxysm and been backed by ample capital, and was, therefore, a popular favorite for rich, well-to-do persons.

The boy had also suffered a large paroxysm and been backed by ample capital, and was, therefore, a popular favorite for rich, well-to-do persons.

The boy had also suffered a large paroxysm and been backed by ample capital, and was, therefore, a popular favorite for rich, well-to-do persons.

The boy had also suffered a large paroxysm and been backed by ample capital, and was, therefore, a popular favorite for rich, well-to-do persons.

The boy had also suffered a large paroxysm and been backed by ample capital, and was, therefore, a popular favorite for rich, well-to-do persons.

The boy had also suffered a large paroxysm and been backed by ample capital, and was, therefore, a popular favorite for rich, well-to-do persons.

The boy had also suffered a large paroxysm and been backed by ample capital, and was, therefore, a popular favorite for rich, well-to-do persons.

The boy had also suffered a large paroxysm and been backed by ample capital, and was, therefore, a popular favorite for rich, well-to-do persons.

The boy had also suffered a large paroxysm and been backed by ample capital, and was, therefore, a popular favorite for rich, well-to-do persons.

The boy had also suffered a large paroxysm and been backed by ample capital, and was, therefore, a popular favorite for rich, well-to-do persons.

The boy had also suffered a large paroxysm and been backed by ample capital, and was, therefore, a popular favorite for rich, well-to-do persons.

The boy had also suffered a large paroxysm and been backed by ample capital, and was, therefore, a popular favorite for rich, well-to-do persons.

</